

Harrison's Program.

How the President Will Go to Bar Harbor.

HE WILL START AUGUST 8.

The Visit to Last Only Ten Days, When the President Will Go to Indianapolis, Other Dispatches from Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Walker Blaine has received a letter from Private Secretary Halford, giving the program for the president's trip to Bar Harbor. The president, accompanied by Mr. Halford and probably Mrs. Harrison, will leave Washington for New York, Aug. 6 or 7, with the chances in favor of the first date.

At New York one of the Fall river steamers will be taken for Boston, the early arriving there the next morning. All that day will be spent in the city as quietly as possible. The president has expressed a wish that he be permitted to decline any public reception. The following morning the party will leave by train for Bar Harbor, arriving there that evening.

As the president has promised to attend the soldiers' monument ceremonies at Indianapolis on August 22, he will spend only about ten days at Bar Harbor.

He Will Serve Fifteen Years. WASHINGTON, July 25.—Major Gen. Schofield has approved the sentence of fifteen years' imprisonment imposed by a court-martial on Hermit Robert E. Lee Schout, of the general military service, who fatally wounded Frank Crosby, a recruit of the colored detachment at Columbus, O., barracks, where the court-martial was held. The Albany penitentiary has been designated as the place of imprisonment.

Hard at Work. WASHINGTON, July 25.—The commission appointed by the secretary of the interior to investigate the system of rearing at the pension office, was hard at work all day examining papers. Assistant Secretary Bussey spent an hour with the commission. He said that there was a great deal of work before the commission, and he did not believe it would be completed for several weeks.

FATHER JAMES CURLEY DEAD. The Venerable Director of the Georgetown College Called Home.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Father James Curley, the venerable director of the Georgetown college observatory, died last evening at 6:26. Father Curley had been ailing since February last with a cold which took such severe hold of him that he could not shake it off. Shortly after the centennial celebration of the college he fell down stairs, but appeared to have received no injury apart from the shock to his nervous system caused by the accident. Yet he never fully rallied, and always kept to his room in the infirmary building. Father Curley, up to within a year of his death, had been a director of the Georgetown observatory. He was the instructor of many men, afterwards famous in this country and in Europe. It was under his instruction that Father Secchi, the illustrious Italian astronomer, first devoted his attention to the profession in which he made for himself such a name. This venerable man was in his 84th year at the time of his death, and was one of the most interesting characters in the history of the college. He was born in Roscommon county, Ireland, Oct. 23, 1794, and was at the time of his death the oldest priest in America, perhaps in the world. He was connected with the Georgetown college for sixty-two years.

SEVERE THUNDER STORMS. A Great Amount of Damage Done Throughout New England.

Boston, July 25.—Reports of severe thunder storms yesterday, continue to come from various points in New England. At Cambridge lightning passed down the chimney of the Jefferson's physical laboratory of Harvard university, and exploded with a tremendous report, but without injuring the half-dozen students that were in the building. At Newton, John Irving's house was struck and his mother was stunned by the shock. A. F. Adams' $30,000 residence was fired and sustained $500 damage.

At Lawrence, rain fell in torrents and the wind rose to such velocity as to level trees and carry away awnings. The year-old child of Mrs. Maggie Fenton was blown from the second story window of her house and fell forty feet to the sidewalk, receiving probably fatal injuries. The damage to crops is great. At York Corner, Me., the pondion and store was struck, the building, a large two-story structure, containing $5,000 worth of merchandise, was entirely destroyed.

Injured by a Fall from a Load of Hay. BROOKLYN, O., July 25.—Samuel Hemminger, a farmer of Holmes township, fell from a load of hay, striking the horses and mowing them so badly that they ran away. Hemminger was kicked and bruised, having four ribs broken and being internally injured.

OHIO PROHIBITIONISTS.

Eight Hundred Delegates Meet in Convention at Zanesville.

ZANESVILLE, O., July 25.—After the morning session of the state prohibition convention, the delegates repaired to Gant's park to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the organization of the party in Ohio. Speeches were made by some of the fifteen original members of that convention held at Mansfield, O., in 1869—the first prohibition state convention in the United States.

THE MEMORIAL HALL.

The convention assembled at 7:30 yesterday evening, and selected Rev. U. L. Work, of Portsmouth, temporary chairman. Mr. Work made an eloquent address and was followed by Mr. L. Beauchamp, of Hamilton county, who succeeded in raising a subscription of about $2,000 for prohibition work.

After reading the following letter from Clinton B. Fisk, of New Jersey, the convention adjourned until today, when a permanent organization will be had and business begin in earnest.

To H. Paden, Chairman Executive Committee: MY DEAR SIR—I am in receipt of your favor of the 8th inst. I am making no engagements to speak this year. I did about five years work in '84, and quite seriously injured my health, and now my physician puts me under prohibition for a year. I shall do my best to obey him. It would give me great pleasure to talk to the members of the Ohio prohibitionists—those who have never surrendered. Please care to them the most hearty greetings of faithful years.

CLAYTON B. FISK.

About eight hundred delegates are in attendance.

A MISTAKE OF NAMES.

Mrs. Heron Not Under Sentence of Death in Korea.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 25.—Relatives of Mrs. H. G. Heron, of Jonesboro, who is reported to be under sentence of death in Korea, have cabled to Seoul, but have received no reply. The publication was first made in a Knoxville paper Monday morning, and caused intense excitement throughout east Tennessee. The report was based on letters received at Jonesboro, in which the name Mrs. Horton, another Korean missionary, who was mobbed in the interior of Korea, was mistaken for Heron.

The Story Denied. NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 25.—The statement that Mrs. Heron, wife of an American missionary, was sentenced to death in Korea, is denied. It can be said on the best authority that Mr. Heron is not a preacher, but a doctor; that no nobleman has been converted, and that Mrs. Heron has not been arrested. On the contrary, she and her husband enjoy the confidence of the King of Korea.

Board of Foreign Missions Discredited. NEW YORK, July 25.—The report telegraphed from Nashville that Mrs. Heron, a Presbyterian missionary in Korea, had been sentenced to death for teaching Christianity, is not credited by the officers of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. They have so advised such action by the Korean authorities is inherently improbable. They also have direct information from the Korean legation at Washington that in their cable address yesterday nothing was said of any trouble.

It is also understood that the state department at Washington has no information on the subject. A telegram from the Korean legation at Washington says:

"State department and myself consider rumor unfounded. Foreigners have right of extra territoriality, can only be arrested and tried by American consul. Have cabled for information."

Probable Foundation for the Story. SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The report from Washington last night that Mrs. H. G. Heron, an American missionary in Korea, had been condemned to death at Seoul, is believed to have originated in a circumstance which recently befell Rev. H. G. Underwood, an American missionary, and his wife, in Korea.

Mr. Underwood was recently married at Seoul to an American lady, named Horton. They went into the interior on their bridal trip, and were mobbed in several places on account of their religious belief, but finally returned to Seoul in safety.

An Old Cargo Recovered.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—A wrecking company have recovered the cargo of the bark Midway, which was wrecked in 1858, off Cape Henlopen, while bound from London to this port with tin, lead and spelter. Foreign Dispatches.

The German Press Has the Boulanger Craze.

FILLING COLUMNS ABOUT HIM.

The Chances for Success in the Coming Elections are Very Flattering—The German Authorities Growing More Rigid Towards the Swiss—Other Cable Items.

BERLIN, July 25.—The German press voraciously devours every little scrap of information that comes from Paris about Boulanger, and their comments upon the latest move of the brave general's enemies fill many columns. All agree that Boulanger's chances for success in the coming election are not injured by his indictment, to which they attach no importance whatever. The Berlin Post believes that the general will be returned in most of the districts in which he has announced himself as a candidate.

The impediments and annoyances to which the German authorities are subjecting all travel and traffic across the Swiss frontier are becoming harsher every day. They now insist upon opening and examining all postal packages going to or coming from Switzerland.

A Scandal in High Life.

LONDON, July 25.—The city of Northampton is regaling itself with a pretty scandal in high life. Frances Whitehead, the daughter of the vicar of St. Andrews' church, has just been caught in a systematic swindling operation, extending over a period of some weeks. She made a practice of soliciting sums of money for different charities, with which her father was connected and pocketed the proceeds.

Wholesale Corruption.

BERLIN, July 25.—The imperial admiralty has just uncovered a nest of corruption within the department, involving many high officials. A number of naval officers were arrested today in Berlin and at Kiel on the charge of wholesale bribery. One of those on being taken into custody shot himself dead.

Fears of a Panic.

BAKU, July 25.—The new naphtha borings, concerning which expectation had been raised to the highest pitch by reports of prospectors, now fail utterly to realize the hopes built upon them. Investors have become alarmed at the daily falling off in the flow, and there are fears of a panic.

FORMING CONSTITUTIONS.

Proceedings of Three Conventions in the New States.

OLIMPIA, W. T., July 25.—At yesterday's session of the constitutional convention several prohibition petitions were referred unread, and a report opposing prohibition in the constitution was adopted. The report of the committee on country, city and township organization was passed by sections through the committee of the whole, with only one amendment. One section is constructed by the best lawyers here as taxing churches, private schools and charitable institutions, and was so intended.

At Sioux Falls.

SIoux FALLS, S. Dak., July 25.—In the constitutional convention yesterday the report of the judiciary committee increasing the number of judicial districts from six to eight and defining them was adopted. The report of the legislative appointment committee was made. It gives forty-five senators and 124 representatives.

An Oil Well on Fire.

FRANKLIN, Pa., July 25.—At 11 o'clock a fire broke out at the Empire oil refinery at Fern station, on the Allegheny Valley railway. The entire plant was destroyed, entailing a loss of $235,000. The empire was an independent refinery and owned by A. L. Confere.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST.

A Fickle Belle Klops With Her Lover's Friend.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The town of Chico, Butte county, is all agog over the elopement of Miss Eva Atkins, aged 17. She is a beautiful and accomplished young lady and a recent high school graduate. She met at a picnic in Chico last May, Raymond Biero, son of Ambrose Biero, a well known journalist. Biero was doing newspaper work on a Red Bluff paper. He resigned his position there and took up his abode in Chico.

The young lady's mother gave her consent to their marriage, but the girl's step-father, C. Barney, was opposed to the young man. He ordered Biero, when he came to call on the young lady, to leave the house, and attempted to eject him. Biero defended himself, threw the old gent out and was arrested for assault and battery, but the mother and daughter testified that the stepfather was to blame, and Biero was released.

During Biero's trouble he had a friend named Neil Hubbs, a handsome young fellow 24 years old, who stood steadily by him. Hubbs was to be the best man at the wedding, which was to take place Sunday evening. Shortly before the time fixed for the ceremony the bride, in company with the best man, Hubbs, boarded a train for Sacramento, where they were married. Biero has accepted the situation philosophically.

WANTED FOR ROBBERY.

Jack Burgess and His Wife Under Arrest at Detroit, Michigan.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Jack Burgess, the notorious prize fighter and confidence man, and his wife, Nettie, who are wanted in this city for stealing $3,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Frank Hurtt, sister of Mrs. Burgess, have been arrested in Detroit. The sisters are daughters of a once noted Massachusetts clergyman. The married Miss Hurtt, late at the house of the family Extract company, and the other married the pugilist. Jack did not support his wife, and Mrs. Hurtt was regularly called on to aid her sister, and incidentally her brother-in-law.

Mrs. Hurtt deposited her jewelry with a jeweler for safe keeping. Having been invited to the old guard ball last January, she sent for the jewelry, and found that they had been withdrawn on a forged order by Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, who had suddenly disappeared. She soon after received pawn tickets for the valuables. She notified the police, who have finally located the Burgesses in Detroit.

Mrs. Hurtt has a divorce suit pending against her husband whom she charges with cruelty and drunkenness.

Took No Deliberate Steps.

CHICAGO, July 25.—The general managers of the southwestern roads met at the office of Chairman Welker today, to discuss what measures had best be adopted in case the Alton should continue to reduce rates. The situation was discussed at length, and it was finally decided to defer action for the present, so as to give the Alton officials further time to put their record as for or against the maintenance of rates. The meeting adjourned to meet again next Wednesday.

Reorganized Railroad.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The parties in control of the Green Bay, Winona and St. Paul railroad yesterday issued a plan of reorganization by which they purpose to assess the income bonds 10 per cent, the preferred stock 5 per cent, and the common stock 5 per cent. They state that the road has a large floating debt, and is unable to meet its interest charges. The plan of reorganization proposes to limit the extension from Green Bay to Omaha.

An Editor Shot.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 25.—The murder of Col. Roger Page, editor of The Times-Register, at Marion, causes great excitement in this vicinity. The man who shot Page is Edward Brown, aged 20 years, son of a wealthy farmer. He fired five shots from behind. It is said that young Brown objected to Page's attentions to his sister, Mrs. Dr. Butt. Page was 50 years old, and recently came from Virginia. He was a relative of Governor Lee.

Murder and Suicide.

LAKE MARQUET, N. Y., July 25.—Chauncey Kniffin, 22 years of age, shot himself dead yesterday morning after he had shot three times at his wife, Annie, 18 years of age. The young woman was alive this morning but will die. The suicide and attempted murder took place shortly after 5 o'clock in the morning in a blackberry patch, and all circumstances prove that Kniffin had premeditated the crime.

Fatal Gas Explosion.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 25.—Yesterday afternoon while a gang of men were removing the rock and coal from the chambers closed at the Central mine in Hyde Park by the cave-in of this morning, the mine gas was ignited from one of the lamps carried by the workmen, and a terrific explosion followed. Martin Burke's Friend

A Prominent Clan-na-Gael Man from Chicago

FURNISHES HIM WITH MONEY.

Habeas Corpus Papers Being Fought for by His Attorneys—Some Startling Things Expected in the Cronin Murder Case.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Ever since Martin Burke was arrested in Winnipeg, and began his fight against extradition, Judge Longenecker, and Chief of Police Hubbard have been puzzled as to where the money came from to enable him to hire expensive lawyers. It has just been learned from Assistant State's Attorney Baker, that a man known to be a close personal friend of a prominent Clan-na-Gael leader in Chicago, appeared in Winnipeg Saturday night.

Monday morning Burke's lawyers ordered a copy of the record in the extradition proceedings and announced that he would make application for a writ of habeas corpus. A large sum of money was required for the move and there was no intimation before Monday that it would be forthcoming. The Chicago detectives in Winnipeg and Chief Hubbard's force are working hard to find out just what the connection is between the arrival of the Chicagoan and the beginning of the legal proceedings, and are hoping for great things.

ESCAPED FROM THE DETECTIVE.

Bushnell, the New York Forger and Embezzler, Still a Free Man.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Police Inspector Byrnes has received a cablegram from Detective Keilly, at Lima, South America, that Bushnell, the New York forger and embezzler, whom Keilly was sent down to arrest, has escaped. Bushnell stole $35,000 from his employees, Butler, Stillman & Hubbard, the well known lawyers, several years ago. He went to Chile, changed his name to Hanson, became very popular, and in 1885 was made agent at Santiago for the West Coast Telephone company. About two years later he embezzled $15,000 from the company. His influence and popularity were so great that he could not be brought to punishment.

The company, during its efforts to secure his conviction, learned that previous name and history. Detective Keilly was sent from New York to arrest Bushnell for his New York crime. He had difficulty in doing so, as there is no extradition treaty with Chile, but that government finally voluntarily gave Bushnell up. Keilly started for home with the prisoner, but at the first stopping place, Iquique, Bushnell managed to escape. Keilly informs Inspector Byrnes that it will be impossible to re-arrest Bushnell unless the United States government instructs its minister to take action in the matter.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Remains of Three Unknown Men Found Near Whitting Station, Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 25.—A report is current, but not fully authenticated, that early this morning the bodies of three men, one colored and two white, were found near Whitting Station, Lake county. Examination developed the fact that each of them had a fatal wound exactly on the back of the head. One of them when found was entirely nude, with the exception of a shirt, and this fact, together with other evidence, goes to show that the deed must have been committed while the victims slept. Near the colored man was found a pocket-book and several bank notes.

Who they are, where they came from, or how they came there is unknown to any one. One report says they have been in Whiting for several days, and were enticed on the railroad and murdered and robbed, but probably the most plausible theory is that they were stockmen passing through with a load of live stock, and that perhaps traps on the line led off to an open place to alay together. The bodies were found close together, between the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Lake Shore railways.

THE CHICAGO AND ALTON.

Jay Gould Says He Has Not Bought It—He Has All He Needs.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Jay Gould, who has just returned from a yachting cruise, was interviewed Tuesday night regarding the story that he has been trying to buy the Chicago and Alton road. Mr. Gould said:

"I have all the railroads I need at present. All my interests are in railroads, and I am satisfied to look after them. I am not a speculator, and I have not had a speculative interest in the market for five years. I occasionally have money to invest, and I have it in railroad securities. I have made no offer for the Alton."

When it was suggested to Mr. Gould that he had recently been borrowing large sums of money he said: "I am lending much more than I am borrowing."

A SICK GOVERNOR.

Massachusetts Chief Executive Reported Seriously Ill.

Boston, July 25.—A special to The Evening Record says that Governor Ames is very ill at his home at North Easton. The dispatch further says: "The governor is troubled with heart disease, the exact character of which Dr. Cowell would not disclose, but one which he says with care and prudence ought not to be proved dangerous, provided the governor holds himself aloof from any exciting influences, whether of business or politics, and hereafter embarks in nothing without careful consideration of its effect upon his health."

Last Sunday he felt badly, but having some important engagements in Boston on Monday, went to Boston, although he was much disinclined to do so. He returned Monday afternoon, and in the evening was prostrated. Since then he has been kept quiet at his home.

Lieutenant Governor Brackett has been summoned from New Hampshire, and will perform the governor's duties until Governor Ames is able to resume them.

LOSS IN THE LITTLE KANAWA.

So Serious That Farmers Will Be Unable to Pay Their Taxes.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 25.—In the flooded district the waters have subsided, and farmers can now see where they stand. Many have lost their all, and will be compelled to ask charity. It is now known that eighteen persons have been other drownings in Jackson county. All bodies have been found but two. Six good iron bridges went out besides many wooden ones in this county.

At Abolition thirteen houses were swept away besides many others in that neighborhood, and much suffering is the result. In Braxton county the soil was washed on the lowlands to a depth of six feet. The county commissioners returned from a tour of inspection of the condition of the county, and find the loss in bridges to be about $25,000. Many farmers are unable to pay taxes this year. The career of Kate Maxwell, "Queen of the Cowboys," was a novel and reckless one, but its termination Sunday, at the end of a rope, is likely to discourage the girls who read red covered novels. It seemed fitting that Kate should die with her boots on.

HALESTAD, it is claimed, in an interview in Europe, charged his defeat for the Berlin mission to Senator Payne. In these days of vindictive it is now the duty of Ohio Republicans to see to it that Mr. Halestad is vindicated, and send him to the senate as Mr. Payne's successor.

A CINCINNATI police court judge has given the opinion that ice cream is a necessity. That settles it; when the young man gets the idea that he is no longer regaling his best young lady with a luxury the charm of the thing will be broken and the ice cream business will suffer.

"On! man! How will you vote? For Home, or, for Hell?" Asks the Prohibition Kanton News. Now, if the fellows who have been voting with the "old parties" can be impressed with the pathos of these exclamation points and the deep-seated anguish of the interrogations they will probably feel conviction climbing up their spines. What a party of sentiment!

There is a prospect that the price of caramels and soda water will have to go up in consequence of the increased price of sugar caused by the sugar trust. "Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad," quotes the Cleveland Press. "When the sugar trust reduces the ability of the American young fellow to buy caramels and soda water for his best girl a howl will go up that will shake the earth to the heart's core."

The Scripps League expedition of American workmen to Europe left Wednesday. The expedition comprises representatives of the mechanical arts, men who have been chosen with regard to their skill and experience, and the outcome can not but be beneficial to both the American employer and employee. This is among the greatest of newspaper enterprises, and the interest manifested by workmen in assurance of its success.

The city council has a good deal of work before it preparatory to making Marion a city of the second class, but there seems a disposition on the part of the council to delay the matter. A census must be taken and the wards divided into precincts, and there seems no reason why this work should not proceed. Marion must get out of her swaddling clothes, and while there is no necessity to make haste hurry, it will be planning to take active steps being taken. The political aspect will not be changed by the necessary divisions.

A curious thing is reported from Prague. An unusually valuable cat's eye has just reached London from Ceylon. It originally weighed 475 carats. Subsequently it passed through several hands, and ultimately fell into those of a native rice merchant, who gave 9,000 rupees for it, and had it cut. Its present weight is 170 carats, and it is valued for 30,000 rupees. It is described as reflecting four opalescent rays, combining to form a simple, brilliant ray.

NEVER FORGET

That too many of men is man.

That the fairest flower is the rose.

That knowledge leaves no room for chance.

The price is never so offensive as when in chains.

That when men are lonely they stoop to any companionship.

That a man in a crowd does not always keep the heart warm.

That the darkest cloud often contains the most fruitful showers.

That the pure worship of a pure heart is an inspiration and a song.

That an open enemy is to be respected, a secret one to be suspected.

That there may be loyalty without love, but never love without loyalty.

That a golden key will often find the way to unlock many a secret drawer.

That death is a sleepless messenger and life a wakeful handmaid of creation.

That the finest feeling velvet paws of the kitten often cover the sharpest claws.

That "doing as well as you know how" is all right if you always know how to do well.

That those who are honest and earnest in their honesty have no need to proclaim the fact.

That it is often more difficult to obliterate traces of spilled ink than drops of spilled blood.

That it may be well to test the condition of a cat's claws before stroking its fur the wrong way.—Exchange.

Col. T. W. Higginson has been appointed by Governor Ames of Massachusetts to write the history of the Bay State soldiers and sailors in the civil war, as ordered by the Legislature. The historian will be allowed five years in which to complete his work.

Mrs. Sangster, the new editor of Harper's Bazar, known so long by her religious poems in the weekly papers, is a fair, matronly lady, well and rather richly dressed, with a suave manner, reminding one of Helen Hunt Jackson.

Miss Susan B. Anthony, the veteran advocate of woman's rights, is a lady of 70, and it is forty-two years since she delivered her first speech on a public platform. It is not often that she now appears as a public speaker, but she is yet full of the old mettle.

A steam carriage in which coke is used as fuel has lately appeared in France. The driving is effected by two thin wheels and the speed attained is about fifteen miles per hour, twenty-eight and one-quarter gallons of water being sufficient for a run of twenty-five miles.

Both the French and German governments have provided facilities for the examination and certification of electrical instruments, and it is now found that apparatus bearing the official endorsement brings a better price in Continental markets than non-attested instruments.—New York Times.

TO PURIFY WATER.

Boiling sterilizes water, and within thirty minutes will have killed harmful bacteria.

Drugs and other agents acting chemically, if used in amounts which are commonly safe, do not sterilize water.

The prolonged heat which water undergoes in the usual process of distillation destroys all germs which may be in the water under going the process.

The finer the substance through which the water passes the lower the pressure the more perfect is the action of the filter in holding back the bacteria.

A bad water filter is less desirable than a pure water in its natural state. When, therefore, filtration is employed because of real danger of infection, the filtered water should, as a rule, be furthermore boiled.

Filtration is done carefully on a large scale through sand beds, upon which a fine layer of organic and inorganic matter is expressly produced by sedimentation, because of its valuable action in holding back the great majority of the bacteria.

THE COWBOY IN THE EAST.

The Indians are slashed and gashed and slapped and dived and drenched;

He'd look and about the howling Ute, who squaled and roared and bellowed;

He'd hang and whang at every gang of robber and marauder,

The horse thief strung on the limb in hang, and thus kept law and order.

In every fight big buck he struck, and never met disaster;

In glen and den, 'mid brutes and men, he never found a truster;

No gash or slash could ever dash against his front terrific;

No foe could stand his red right hand that slugged so scientific.

The rattlesnake he punched and crunched; he overthrew the black;

He sought and fought an awful lot each beast 'neath the horizon.

No scar or jar could ever mar, no harm could ever get him;

But want of breath and speedy death o'ertook all things that met him!

But to the town he came for fame, he moved into the city;

He fell, oh well! I grieve to tell—the pity!—oh, the pity!

He'd hit and split his head, and got a bruise at every crossing,

And the horse man and the moving van his mangled form was tossing.

Whene'er he crossed the street his feet with wheels and things were tangled;

And his frame became a bloody shame, all maimed and mangled and mangled;

He'd fall and sprawl right thro' it all, his bones all dislocated,

With most of his face stuck on the wrong place, and both of his feet mangled.

And soon it came to pass the gas the big gas house exploded—

And he was mangled, you see, he didn't know it was loaded.

Oh, my! in the sky he shot as high as war contractor's bouillon,

And his scattered frame was found, they claim, in sixteen different locations!

—S. W. Foss in Yankee Blade.

He Knew.
A teacher was telling her little boys about temptation, and showing how it sometimes came in the most attractive attire. She used as an illustration the paw of a cat.

"Now," said she, "you have all seen the paw of a cat. It is as soft as velvet, isn't it?"

"Yes," said the boys.

"And you have seen the paw of a dog?"

"Yes," said the boys.

"Well, although the cat's paw seems like velvet, there is, nevertheless, concealed in it something that hurts. What is it?"

"No answer."

"The dog bites," said the teacher, "when he is in anger; but what does the cat do?"

"Scratches," replied the boy.

"Correct," said the teacher, nodding her head approvingly. "Now, what has the cat got that the dog hasn't?"

"Whiskers," said a boy on the back seat; and the latter that ran around the class brought the lesson to an end.—Young Catholic.

A Cautious Man.
A man who had been hurt by a fall out Fort street, the other day, had an ambulance summoned, but by the time it arrived he had regained much of his nerve, and before he would permit them to lift him in, he inquired:

"What will the charge be?"

"Nothing," he was assured.

"What! Is it free?"

"It is."

"Well, that's fair enough, but look here, don't fool with me! If you expect to make me buy a dollar's worth of church fair tickets at the other end of the route you'll get badly left!"—Detroit Free Press.

A Bad Drawing.
"The dog bites," said the teacher, "when he is in anger; but what does the cat do?"

"Scratches," replied the boy.

"Correct," said the teacher, nodding her head approvingly. "Now, what has the cat got that the dog hasn't?"

The assumption that iced water is dangerous, and that iced tea, or iced coffee, or iced lemonade, as a harmless substitute, is simply a delusion. As the source of danger feared by some is the degree of cold, we fall to see clearly how flavor modifies the effect of temperature. There are some individuals, undoubtedly, who cannot drink ice water without injury, and who ought never to use it. But to a great majority of persons it is refreshing and healthful. Its use, temperate and discreet, is in no way to be condemned, which cannot be said of some of its substitutes.

CHASE & HUNTER.

The Progress of a Half-Century.

The manner of taking of a harvest as much as any thing else illustrates the progress made in this country within the last fifty years. Then the entire crop had to be reaped with hand sickles and the work of harvesting the limited crop then produced was a long and tedious exercise. Then came the grain cradle by which one man was able to cut about as much grain as five men could with sickles. The next improvement was a machine drawn by horses which cut rapidly enough, but left the grain in tangled swaths. This was soon superseded by the self rake, which was thought to be about perfection. The binding was now the serious thing to be considered, and the inventive genius of the American manufacturer soon produced a machine to cut and bind, which with its various improvements has virtually left all former machines to rust out, or to go to the scrap pile. When this much has been accomplished, the work of gathering the sheaves into rows for shocking was next considered, and now a farmer is hardly satisfied without a carrier attached to his machine, which as he drives along gathers the sheaves into rows ready for shocking.

Mrs. E. K. Cory, of Montpelier, Ind., is visiting relatives in DeCliff.

James Church and family are going to California to remain at least one year.

Mrs. Kate Sharp and children, of Kirkville, Mo., are visiting her brother, D. H. Clifton.

Karlson Collins and son have bought a "Level" and are ready for the farmers' grain.

D. H. Clifton has made arrangements to buy grain at DeCliff this fall, which will be a great accommodation to the farmers.

We have heard Dr. Scott preach quite a number of fine sermons, but his sermon Sunday evening was the best of all, so far, in our opinion.

Joseph Hull, of Marion, Jacob Huffman, of Montpelier, and A. N. Clements, of Mansfield, all former citizens of DeCliff, were in town this week on business.

C. C. Mattix and wife, of Upper Sandusky, are visiting their numerous friends in this vicinity. Mr. Mattix represents the McCormick blader.

Last week, on Wednesday, Green Miller was 81 years old. So his many friends and relatives had up and carried out a successful termination, a birthday surprise on that gentleman. All kinds of eatables and delicacies were prepared for the occasion, and a good time not to be forgotten, was enjoyed by all.

Monday morning last, while coming down a hill east of Kenton, a team belonging to Kelly Collins, pulling a threshing engine, took fright and ran away. John Carey, the driver, could not control the frightened animals and jumped out of the engine and his feet became tangled in the lines, which threw Carey to the ground. Two wheels of the engine passed over his head. It is a wonder to all that he escaped sudden death, but fortunately, no bones were broken but Mr. Carey is badly bruised about the body and head. His injuries will lay him up for several weeks.

The Prohibitionists of Marion county opened the fall campaign at Ada, Monday night, Dec. 2nd, of 1900, being the center of the occasion. The affair was well attended and lasted an hour and a half, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., with two singing quartets, which drew a big house. It was proclaimed that the meeting was to be a debate of political argument, yet the orator made the announcement that he would be compelled to treat the case politically. Therefore, a genuine Prohibition speech was delivered to the surprise of all, except the Prohibitionists, who got their heads of the campaign.

JOB SPELKE

DOXSEE'S PURE CLAM JUICE!

A Natural Medicine, an Agreeable, Not a Narcotic Dose.

"Throw physic to the dogs."

—Shakespeare or Bacon?

INVIGORATING and appetizing if taken cold before eating in the morning. It tones up the system, settles a disordered stomach. A gentle, but sure cathartic. If a multifold croak must be indulged in, it will counteract its bad effects as to stomach and brain. An absolute and sure preventive of sea sickness. Its components are closely allied to the gastric juices of the stomach.

An Antidote to Intoxicants.

If taken regularly, fresh and cold, three times a day, before each meal, it will put the stomach in such a shape that the prospect for stimulants will not be felt, and excessive desire can be toned down to simple moderation. I shall keep Clam Juice constantly on hand to be served free, hot or cold, to my customers. Knowing positively from experience that it will do all that is claimed for it above, I will try in every way to promote its use, as it is not my wish to encourage excessive drinking, and if I can discourage it by giving away freely the only known antidote I will only be too glad to do so.

Have also for sale Buckingham whiskey, old Maryland rye, fully matured, seven years old, the best in the country.
